SUPPLIES FOR CIVIL AIR PATROL UNITS
ON ACTIVE-DUTY ASSIGNMENTS SERVING ARMED FORCES

1. An Army Air Forces regulation is now in preparation setting forth the procedure to be followed by Civil Air Patrol units or activities on active-duty assignments serving the armed forces of the United States in purchasing supplies from Air Service Command activities. It is expected that this regulation will be issued about 15 September 1943 or soon thereafter. In the meantime, the procedure to be followed by said units in purchasing such supplies is set forth in the following teletype instructions issued by the Commanding General, Air Service Command:

"Pending issuance of an AAF reg. establishing the method and procedure of furnishing supplies to units of the Civil Air Patrol, sales to the Civil Air Patrol, sales of parts and supplies including fuel lubricants normally available in AAF stock except critical items such as instruments and accessories and controlled items is authorized. Such sales will be made on a cash basis at cost plus fifteen percent. Cash receipts therefrom will be disposed of in accordance with AR 35-780. Sales will be made to Civil Air Patrol personnel upon presentation of proper identification and certificate of authority from Civil Air Patrol certifying officers authorizing purchase. Also authorize the performance of repair and overhaul services of AAF equipment installed in Civil Air Patrol aircraft by activities having suitable facilities and personnel. Emergency services will be provided as authorized by AAF Reg. 65-13. Previous instruction from the Hdq. in teletype ASCSE3B3 dtd June 25 concerning this subject will be disregarded. Advise all affected activities in your control areas."

2. CAP personnel making such purchases are required to furnish the Air Service Command Depot or Sub-Depot from which purchase is made with a personally certified copy of active-duty assignment orders, together with a certificate of necessity executed by the Certifying Officer (CAP officer authorized to certify per diem vouchers) of the respective CAP unit or activity and will present for inspection official CAP Membership Identification Card.

3. Coastal Patrol units scheduled for liquidation are included under the foregoing procedure.
